SHORT ANSWER

1. The MVS house is supported by First Mennonite Church of San Francisco. MVSeers are involved with the church in varying capacities throughout the year. Although associates are not expected to attend First Mennonite, they are warmly welcomed. Would it be difficult for you to live in a household with a clear and ongoing religious affiliation? Do you have any questions about this connection?
2. What interests you in living as an associate member of the MVS household in San Francisco?
3. What experience do you have living in community?
4. What paid work do you anticipate doing while you're living at the MVS house?
5. Inevitably conflict arises in community. What is an example of how you have grown through an experience of conflict in community? What did you learn about yourself through the process?
